

Every day we work hard to be the kind of company you can be proud and pleased to do business with...

Hercules' main office and plant are located in Findlay, Ohio, and have been for many years. Often you will find that several generations of the same family are or have been employees of Hercules. Great pride is taken by all in delivering an excellent product at a fair price.

To satisfy the many and diverse markets we serve, we produce our range of tyres in two different brand names - Hercules and Merit. Both brands are identical in construction and quality, having been produced in the same moulds, but with different nameplates.
